Online APA Student Sponsorship for the June 2022 FAA Conference, Adelaide: “Wealth and Wellbeing”

The APA will sponsor THREE astrology students to attend, online, the 24th International Astrology Conference being held at the Haven Marina, Glenelg SA on 11 – 13 June 2022. The sponsorship comprises the Conference Package which includes:

- 3 days of Conference Lectures 11 – 13 June 2022. This package is valued at $390 and does not include pre- or- post conference workshops.

Applications close 1st December 2021
The successful applicants will be notified by the 5th December

To be eligible for this package the student applicant must meet the following criteria:

- Be a student of an APA Member and current member of FAA.
- This must be the first FAA conference the astrology student has attended.

Email a written application stating the reasons why attending the 2022 FAA Conference would be of benefit to them and any circumstances that would support their submission. This should be emailed to their teacher who will endorse the application and forward it to the APA Secretary, Susan Boxshall sujb22@gmail.com with a copy to APA President, Patricia Shepherd, wollongong@iprimus.com.au

- ‘Teaching’ APA members may support more than one student to apply as the winner will be chosen by the APA Committee. If APA Committee members are supporting their students to apply they will be precluded from voting as in previous years.
- Students will be chosen on the merit of their written submission and if a number of students meet all the criteria and show equal merit a lottery will be held to choose the winner.
- Applications should include all the applicant’s contact details and those of their teacher.
- Applicants, if successful, need to provide a short biography and photo for the APA Newsletter; agree to the publication of their name in the FAA Journal and the APA Newsletter, as well as write a report for the FAA March Journal and APA March Newsletter.

* Note: Due to the limited availability of delegates and possible Covid restrictions the APA Student Conference Sponsorship for 2022 will be available online only. Further information see APA website ‘APA Student Conference Sponsorship Information and Guidelines’.
